The Connecticut Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America held this afternoon, a banquet at April 21, 1865, which was the first issue The Stratfield. Covers were laid for published after the assassination of seventy-five. The banquet hall was gayly decorated in the national colors.

A large picture of Abraham Lincoln was displayed. Arthur Birdseye, Governor of the Bridgeport society, was toastmaster. The speakers of the afternoon included Edward Hagaman Hall of New York city, Governor of the New York society, and Secretary of the Association for the protection of the Adirondacks, and also secretary of the American Science and Historic Preservation Society, who spoke on the "Influence of Anniversaries"; J. Merrill Foote of Newark, N. J., Gover-nor of the New Jersey society, brought greetings; W. E. Fitch, M.D., of New York city, who spoke on the "Meckenberg Declaration of Independence"; Dr. George L. Porter of this city, who is mortal. The President has been ingave "Reminiscences of Lincoln"; and Rev. Dr. John G. Davenport of Waterbury, chaplain of the Connecticut society, who recited an original poem. Bentley's stringed "Stratfield orchestra" rendered patriotic pieces. A card was circulated upon which

STORY OF LINCOLN'S ASSASSINATION

The Best for Less.

AT STRATFIELD As Told in The Farmer of April 21,1865 in a Despatch from Secretary of War. The following is from the Farmer of > War Department, Washington, April 15, 1:30 p.m. Major General Dix, New York: This evening at about 9:30 p. m. at Ford's Theatre, the President, while sitting in his private box with Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Harris and Major Rathdenly entered the box and approached behind the president. The assassin then leaped upon the stage brandishing a large dagger or knife, and made his escape in the rear of the theatre.

bun was shot by an assassin, who sud-

The pistol ball entered the back of the President's head and penetrated nearly through the head. The wound sensible ever since it was inflicted, and is now dying. About the same hour an assassin, whether the same or not, entered Mr. Seward's apartments, and under the pretense of having a prescription was shown to the secretary's sick chamthe following sentiments appeared, to ber. The assassin immediately rushthe greetings by Edwin Louis Ripley ed to the bed and inflicted two or three stabs on the throat and two on the

It is hoped the wounds may not be mortal. My apprehension is that they will prove fatal. The nurse alarmed Mr. Frederick Seward, who was in an adjoining room and he hastened to the door of his father's room, when he met the assassin, who inflicted upon him one or more dangerous wounds. The recovery of Frederick Seward is doubtful. It is not probable that the President will live through the night. General Grant and wife were advertised to be at the theatre this evening, but he started for Burlington at 6 o'clock this

At a cabinet meeting, at which General Grant was present, the subject of the state and country and the prospects of a speedy peace was discussed. The president was very cheerful and hopeful and spoke very kindly of General Lee and others of the Confederacy, and of the establishment of government in Virginia. All of the members of the cabinet except Mr. Seward are now in attendance upon the president. I have seen Mr. Seward, but he and

Frederick were both unconscious. EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.
